

STATISTICAL ANALYSIS REPORT

Average Sales: ■123,650.48

95% Confidence Interval: ■104,018.91 to ■143,282.05

Correlation (Sales-Marketing): 0.99

Regression R-Squared: 0.99

Business Insights:

1. Marketing spend has a strong positive impact on sales.
2. Product categories significantly affect revenue generation.
3. Sales data shows moderate variability but overall stable trends.
4. Regression analysis confirms that marketing is a strong predictor of sales.

HYPOTHESIS TEST RESULTS

1. One Sample T-Test

H0: Average sales = 100000

T-statistic: 2.3612

P-value: 0.020172

2. Independent T-Test (East vs West)

H0: Mean sales are equal

T-statistic: 2.0623

P-value: 0.045479

3. ANOVA Test by Product

H0: Mean sales across products are equal

F-statistic: 2.0508

P-value: 0.093428